Mr Smith

Town Clerk

Dear Sir

REG^d

I use the Canal Reserve a good deal in the evening and have had several narrow escapes of being injured both when walking and using my bicycle by stray cattle and horses. The people who own Cows & Horses about there evidently think they have a right to turn them out to graze. I saw a boy bring a cow and heifer on Sunday and leave them and then a man a little further down led two horses and took off the head stalls and left them to feed. Of course in daylight it is all right one can see them but at night when it is dark and they wander over the road and footpath it becomes very dangerous trusting that something will be done to make it safe to use the road at night.

Yours faithfully
J E Toneycliffe
